

Terms of Use

By accessing the Aerospace Technology Institute ("ATI") portal and using the ATI Market Model Online Tool you agree to the following terms of use.

The ATI Market Model Online Tool, its calculations and its data are owned by the ATI. Results obtained by using the ATI Market Model Online Tool are intended for individuals and organisations contributing to the growth of the UK aerospace sector.

You are provided access to the ATI Market Model Online Tool on the following basis:

- Login details – Your login details are for your sole use and must not be shared with anyone else. If another person within your organisation requires access, please direct them to the ATI Tools Portal where they may also register.
- Acceptable uses of the data generated by the ATI Market Model Online Tool are:
  - For legitimate business purposes relating to your research and/or work within the UK aerospace sector
  - When substantiating claims made in proposals for funding that are submitted to the strategic review process of the ATI, Innovate UK and the Department for Business, Energy & Industrial Strategy (BEIS)
  - When releasing information on ATI-funded projects, in accordance with the project's contractual agreement
- Other uses of the data generated by the ATI Market Model Online Tool can be approved on a case-by-case. Please contact us for any such requests and a member of our team will be in touch.
- Fair use – The ATI will monitor access to the ATI Market Model Online Tool to ensure fair use. If there is excessive use or an abnormal usage pattern, the ATI may contact you to clarify why the ATI Market Model Online Tool is being used in that way. Misuse of the ATI Market Model Online Tool may result in access being withdrawn without notice.

The ATI reserves the right to withdraw access to the ATI Market Model Online Tool at any time.

The ATI will store and process certain data, please refer to the ATI Market Model Online Tool Data Protection and Handling document for more information. To comply with the data protection and handling statement, user accounts will be deleted after five years of inactivity.

You must not log in using anyone else's login credentials. If you believe you have been provided details either in error or through a breach of our terms of use, please log out and contact the ATI.

All other rights are reserved. The ATI reserves the right to restrict access to any functionality or material on the ATI portal to any party and organisation in breach of these terms and advise the ATI's board of directors of the breach.
